SUMMARY

Full stack developer leveraging engineering background to overcome problems and design solutions. My goal is always to leave code better than I found it. Recently earned a certificate in full stack development from the University of Sydney, which helped me to develop my skills in JavaScript, React.js, Git, Databases (MySQL, MongoDB) and Node.js. Being highly passionate about coding, results focused and having a proven ability to deal with multiple stakeholders, I developed the capacity to help my teams to understand business needs and work together to quickly obtain the desired outcomes. Embedding the highest amount of integrity and dignity in everything I do, and always relying on agile and efficient work, my projects were always delivered on time and with a successful outcome. I'm excited to use my skills as part of a fast-paced, quality-driven team whilst creating efficient and modern code.
